TRUSTS AND THE TARIFF.

Truly, the free traders have most winning ways to make people hate them. They are, says the New York Tribune, persistently affirming that protectionists naturally delight in trusts and other combinations to fleece the public, but are moved to denounce them only because convinced that they tend to render the protective system unpopular. This is, of course, an indecent slander, for protectionists, at least as ardently as any other citizens, desire the welfare of the community, and are more willing than others to make some personal sacrifices in order to secure permanent benefits for all consumers. They believe that protection does encourage the development of home industry, and consequently increased competition among home producers, and therefore surer and more lasting benefits to consumers than can by any other mode be secured. The free trader does not believe this, and has a right to his delusions. But he has no right to falsify the record by pretending or implying that protectionists, who consent to sacrifices for the public good, do not desire that end as much as free traders, who selfishly refuse to make temporary personal sacrifices for lasting public benefits.

The sincere advocate of protection is one who honestly believes that the highest advantages in the end for all the people of the country are to be attained by duties which develop home production and competition. The free trader can only discredit himself by denying to his opponent honesty of belief or sincerity of purpose on this point. But it necessarily follows, from the root idea and controlling aims of the protectionist, that he must be uncompromisingly hostile to any and every process by which home production is checked to the disadvantage of consumers, or home competition restricted for the purpose of plundering them. He could not be a genuine protectionist if he were not zealous to see home production developed and home competition increased, so that the objects of protection may be most fully and speedily attained. Even a temporary agreement to restrict production, because of an actual deficiency of demand, he naturally views with distrust because, first of all, it cuts down the demand for American labor and tends to depress wages, and second, it is exceedingly apt to be prolonged and extended as a means of extorting from consumers unnatural prices.

No other attitude of mind for the protectionist is logical, or consistent with his zeal for the welfare of the people or the uplifting of labor. It is therefore a most unjust perversion to represent him as the friend or ally of combinations which have no other object than to defeat the ruling aims of his economic philosophy. The slander is only a little more dishonest when the trust or combination in question is notoriously made up of persons who are hostile to protection, who owe no advantage to the protective policy, and who use the money and influence they possess to defeat that policy. The trusts which have been aided by protective duties, if any such exists, do injure the cause in the public estimation, and that is an all too real and honorable reason for opposing them, but no such additional reason is needed. They kindle public indignation against the men who abuse opportunities granted for the public benefit and strive to turn them into instruments of private greed. But sincere protectionists require to such stimulus to oppose methods which have no other object than the practical defeat of their aim and principles.

The changes already made in the railroad mail service, says the Indianapolis Journal, show that the administration realizes the importance of a thorough reformation of the postal service and how to go about it. The railway mail service is the key to the whole system, the mainpring and driving power of the entire machine. Under the late administration it was badly demoralized, and after being filled up with inexperienced and incompetent men the civil service rules were applied to it in the last days of the administration with a view of preventing changes. President Harrison very wisely suspended the order of his predecessor until May 1, and now the work of restoration is going on. Out of five division superintendents appointed on Friday four were incumbents of the office, and men of long experience and training. The entire country is divided into nine divisions, and five of these are already in charge of experienced men. These old division superintendents take the service as a sailor does the ropes of a ship. They will be able to perceive immediately where it is weak and will know where to strengthen it. They can tell by examining the records and examination papers who ought to be removed and can put their hands on old clerks who ought to be reinstated. The reappointment of these former division superintendents is the best thing that could possibly have been done, and will contribute immensely to a speedy reformation of the service.

THE BLAZING PRAIRIES.

GREAT DESTRUCTION IN THE NORTHWEST.

Hundreds of Families Burned Out and Several Towns Almost Entirely Destroyed—Other Casualties.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 4.—During the last two days South Dakota and Minnesota have been swept by a series of wind storms which have caused hundreds of thousands of dollars' damage to property, several lives have been lost. The greatest damage has not been caused by the wind alone, but in many places fires, fanned into fury by the storms, have wiped out of existence several small villages and hundreds of farmers' houses. The towns most completely destroyed are Volin, Lesterville, and Mount Vernon, and three or four other villages were badly damaged. At Volin every house in the place except three homes to-night. Lesterville was flattened to the ground and twenty families are without a roof. A terrible gale of wind struck Mount Vernon and fire started from a small house that was blown over and the loss will foot up $300,000. It is reported that several persons lost their lives in this fire, but no confirmation has yet been received. Four large elevators and the Milwaukee depot were destroyed. A report from Gary says the sun was almost totally obscured and the superstitious thought the end of the world had come. Farmhouses and barns were swept away and horses and cattle were burned to death by scores. Near Milbank fifty head of live stock are reported lost, and the fire has swept over twenty miles of the country, causing immense loss. The storm has abated somewhat, but the wind is yet high enough to keep the fire burning fiercely, and further heavy losses are almost certain. The damage in Minnesota is much less than in Dakota, as the force of the storm was pretty well spent before it reached the boundary.

A CHICAGO BLAZE.

A Furniture Factory Burned, with Heavy Loss.

CHICAGO, April 4.—Flames burst from the basement of the wholesale parlor furniture factory of S. Karpen & Brothers, at 42 and 44 South Canal street, shortly before 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, and before the fire department could be summoned the blaze had shot to the roof and the entire structure was soon in a mass of fire.

A strong wind was blowing from the northwest, and soon the fire had crept to the part of the large building at 38 and 40 on the north, occupied by Newman Bros., organ and piano; the Marblehead Lime company, the New York Safety Steam Power company, engines and boilers, and a separate building on the south, at 46 and 48, occupied by Charles A. Schieren & Co., the Bennett Manufacturing company. The furniture firm will suffer the heaviest loss. The total damage will reach $180,000. The following is an approximate statement of the loss and insurance: Henry Biedler, loss $25,000, insurance $40,000; Newman Bros., loss $58,000, insurance $50,000; S. Karpen & Bros., loss $70,000, insurance $38,000; Marblehead Lime company, first floor and basement of 38 and 40, loss by water, $2,520, insurance ample; New York Safety Steam Power company, first floor of 38 and 40, loss by water, $2,000, insurance ample; Marvin H. Walker, engines and boilers and Rollins Bros. & Co., agricultural implements, first floor of 42 and 44, loss of office, furniture and stock, $10,000, insurance ample to completely cover.

LEOLA, D. T. DESTROYED.

A Loss of $150,000 Caused by a Prairie Fire.

ABERDEEN, D. T., April 4.—Leola, county seat of McPherson county, thirty-seven miles northwest of Aberdeen, was destroyed by prairie fire during Wednesday's whirlwind. The flames came from the west, and were not noticed until they had played havoc on account of the terrible dust. Sixty dwellings and business houses were burned, entailing a loss of $150,000. The only buildings remaining are the court house, two stores and six dwellings. C. W. Old and Thomas Wardwell were terribly burned, and couriers from the demolished village say they cannot live until morning. Leola is an interior town, with no railroad or telegraph, and further particulars cannot be obtained. Persons who drove across the country to Westport, the nearest railroad station, say that the surrounding country is nearly devastated. Hundreds of farmhouses are in ashes and the carcasses of burned animals are lying along the road.

NEW JERSEY'S CYCLONE.

Several Buildings Blown Down and Oyster Boats Badly Damaged.

BRIDGEPORT, N. J., April 4.—A cyclone moving from the southeast struck the southern portion of this city at about 6 o'clock last evening, doing considerable damage. A new house just finished at Riverside was leveled to the ground. The roof of the Eastlake woolen mills was blown off, a packing house at Fairton was completely destroyed, and several large wind mills on farms in this vicinity were blown down. Messrs. reports from Long Beach, on the Morris river, state that considerable damage was done to oyster boats lying in the harbor, and that chimneys and fences were blown down and other damage done.

Horribly Mangled by Machinery.

Tipton, Ind., April 3.—Joseph Lefever, employed at Walton & Whistler's flouring mill at Atlanta, this county, was caught in a rapidly revolving wheel. Every garment was torn from his body, his arm, leg and six ribs were broken, and the soles of his feet were mashed into a jelly. He will die.

Mount Vernon, D. T., Wiped Out.

MASON CITY, Iowa, April 4.—Dispatches were received here this morning that Mount Vernon, D. T., located twelve miles from Mitchell, in Davidson county, was entirely destroyed by fire last night. The loss will reach $75,000. No lives were lost.

Disastrous Dakota Prairie Fires.

BLUNT, D. T., April 4.—The whole country around here is being devastated by prairie fires. Several buildings in the suburbs have been burned, but the city is as yet safe. J. I. Richardson lost 500 sheep, cattle, and hogs.

Allegheny, Pa.—Mrs. Henry Fleckling committed suicide by hanging.

THE WISCONSIN LEGISLATURE.

The Bentley & Nowlan Claim Passed by the Senate this Morning.

The State Fair and Several Other Important Bills Killed.

Special to the Gazette.

MADISON, April 4.—The senate passed the bill authorizing secretary of state to audit the claim of Bentley & Nowlan amounting to $26,000 for rebuilding south wing of capitol.

Most of the session was occupied in considering a bill for the division of Ashland county, known as the Mills bill. Several strong speeches were made both for and against the bill, which was finally indefinitely postponed by a vote of 17 to 16.

The following bills were concurred in:

Authorizing Methodist denominations to form corporations for insurance of church property.

Authorizing guardians to convey real estate of wards in certain cases.

In the assembly the friends of the state fair bill made an ineffectual attempt to have the vote by which the bill was refused a third reading last night reconsidered. After an hour spent in filibustering a motion to reconsider was lost by a vote of 46 to 47. The result was received with great applause by the enemies of the bill.

Bills were passed permitting St. Joseph's Benevolent Society, of Milwaukee, to transact insurance business in Wisconsin on the same conditions as other benevolent insurance organizations.

Senate bills concurred in:

To prevent the abduction of women.

For more adequate punishment of keeper's of houses of ill fame.

Reducing price of state lands.

How Doctors Conquer Death.

Dr. Walter K. Hammond says: "After a long experience I have come to the conclusion that two-thirds of all deaths from cough, pneumonia and consumption, might be avoided if Dr. Acker's English Remedy for consumption were only used in time." This wonderful remedy is sold under a positive guarantee by Prentice & Evenson, druggists.

One On the Bishop.

Bishop Temple of London relates that when he was once worshipping in the East End church, where a hearty musical service was a distinguishing feature he joined in the singing to the best of his ability. He has a stentorian voice, and the effect of his efforts on those sitting near him may be imagined. At the conclusion of the second verse of the hymn the patience of a workman on his immediate left seemed fairly exhausted. Not recognizing the dignity beside him the poor man, in sheer desperation, gave the bishop a sharp dig in the ribs, and the latter, on turning for an explanation, was thus addressed in subdued but distinct tones: "I say, gabner, you dry up you're spoiling the whole show."

PLANNED TO MURDER

Fleetside Attempt to Wreck a Pennsylvania Passenger Train.

MANSFIELD, Ohio, April 4.—An attempt was made to wreck the Pennsylvania passenger train No. 10, at Mansfield, this morning, about 12 o'clock last night. Eight pieces of iron such as are used to fasten "T" rails together were tightly wedged into the switch near that town. An engine, with a passenger car and a flat car, was approaching the obstruction, but an unusual jolt caused the train men to be alarmed and they reported the matter to the operator. He investigated and stopped the limited train as it reached the switch. His efforts to take the iron out of the switch by hand proved futile. A fireman had to be sent back to the engine, and with the hammer he procured they were forced out. The switch had been placed in the switch without any notice, and the operator had no way of bound train, while allowing an east-bound train to pass over with only a little warning. The switch is only sixty feet from a bridge, and the momentum would have thrown the whole train over the bridge. The consequences would have been terrible. The train which it was sought to wreck had more passengers than it usually has, a majority of whom were from New York City, and it is probable that the dynamite covered the reason why the flyer stopped.

NEW YORK, April 4.—A snowstorm beating down upon Buffalo yesterday morning when the big locomotive A. Buffalo, which was the last to leave from Jersey City Monday, started 9:15 a. m. to edipise that performance.

The train drew the express was starts every day at that hour. It was made up of Pullman cars, two baggage cars, and three ordinary coaches. At an Ellisville two heavy sleepers and one a heavy coach were added to the train, and the train was then made up of 12 cars when two were dropped. The whole machine kept in perfect order, and the Buffalo was reached at 10:55 p. m., the schedule time.

Great Strike at Buffalo.
